Wasps and Hornets

What are wasps and hornets?

Wasps and hornets are stinging insect that belong to the order of insects known as hymenoptera. The same order of insects that ants belong to. They are known as beneficial insects as they are pollinators. Depending upon specific species they will nest in the ground or in nests which they construct in various locations from the eaves of homes to trees or bushes.

Are they dangerous?

Yes, wasps and hornets account for about 30 percent of the 54 deaths related to arthropod bites each year. Some individuals are allergic and may suffer anaphylactic shock due to being stung.

How do you get rid of Wasps and Hornets?

Wasps and hornets may be difficult to control that's why our service includes the necessary products and follow up visits for one fee. Our treatment methods consist of the following:

Initial Service - Detailed inspection of the interior and exterior of your home, then a targeted treatment of all areas where activity is present. Each Initial Service includes the application of seven exclusive Pest Guard steps, designed to rid your home of unwanted pests and keep them away.

Follow Up - Quarterly interior/exterior or exterior-only services will be scheduled as part of our annual Integrated Pest Management program. All Schendel Premium Care customers enjoy the benefit of our PestZero Guarantee. If pests return in between visits, Schendel returns for free.

Can I do it myself?

Due to the complexity of treatment and the time required, wasps and hornets are generally not a pest many people have success in eradicating. Beware when purchasing pesticides and other products online as many are not effective. Pesticides can be harmful to people and pets if they are misused or mixed improperly.

When conventional materials are required, we follow very stringent guidelines for the use of the product so that it poses no threat to people, pets or plants. All products are approved by the EPA. Our service technicians will inform you of any specific safety measures that need to be taken.
