Face Flies

What are face flies?

Adult face flies are non-biting, measure about 1/2 inch in length, are dull gray, and feed on the mucus and watery secretions found around the eyes, nostrils and mouths of cattle. Females lay their eggs in fresh cow manure. This fly has sponging mouthparts, which means it secretes saliva onto its food and sponges it back up again. (Not a pleasant fact but true!) This fact means face flies are capable of transporting disease organisms.

Why do I have them?

Adult face flies begin searching for suitable overwintering conditions in August or September. Some of the places they find are attics, wall voids, and basements. If they find your home suitable they will over winter year after year. Once they are inside they hibernate, and then attempt to find ways out by following light in spring, when it warms up and hibernation ends.

Are they dangerous?

Face flies are predominately a nuisance pest.

How do you get rid of face flies?

Flies may be difficult to control that's why our service includes the necessary products and follow up visits for one fee. Our treatment methods consist of the following:

Initial Service - Detailed inspection of the interior and exterior of your home, then a targeted treatment of all areas where activity is present. Each Initial Service includes the application of seven exclusive Pest Guard steps, designed to rid your home of unwanted pests and keep them away.

Follow Up - Quarterly interior/exterior or exterior-only services will be scheduled as part of our annual Integrated Pest Management program. All Schendel Premium Care customers enjoy the benefit of our PestZero Guarantee. If pests return in between visits, Schendel returns for free.

Can I do it myself?

Due to the complexity of treatment and the time required, Flies are generally not a pest many people have success in eradicating. Beware when purchasing pesticides and other products online as many are not effective. Pesticides can be harmful to people and pets if they are misused or mixed improperly.

How soon can you get here?
